TO OUR COMMUNITY,
At the Community Foundation of the Holland/Zeeland Area, we work to ensure that our community thrives today, tomorrow, and forever. We build our Community’s Endowment to support high impact charitable projects, help donors achieve their charitable goals, and lead and partner in community level initiatives.

From 2015–2017, we focused on growing our Community’s Endowment through our Today. Tomorrow. Forever. Campaign. This campaign increased our Community’s Endowment from $15 to $20 million and created a pipeline of more than $30 million in future estate gifts. While our Community’s Endowment remains a priority beyond the campaign, in 2018 we put extra time and energy into elevating the Donor Service side of our work. We highlighted our various tools and knowledge to help make giving as efficient and effective as possible at achieving donors’ charitable goals. The response from the community was astounding as we received close to $20 million in contributions to Donor Service funds. These gifts, combined with nearly $1 million in new gifts to our Community’s Endowment, led to our total contributions in 2018 reaching close to $21 million — more than double our previous record high! These resources will create a lasting impact on individuals and nonprofits in the Holland/Zeeland area for years to come.

As part of the emphasis on the Donor Service part of our mission, we also piloted a Philanthropic Consulting program. Our team worked alongside companies and families in a more hands on way beyond fund management. With our Philanthropic Consulting program, donors have a resource to help them analyze their giving strategy, the process they use for making decisions and the organizations they are currently supporting.

As our Community’s Endowment grows, so does our ability to invest in important local initiatives. In addition to continuing a robust competitive grant program, we have been able to enhance our partnership with the Holland/Zeeland Promise Scholarship by investing in its future growth with a $120,000 grant over the next four years. We are also coming alongside the Promise Scholarship as a strategic partner to help ensure the program is sustainable long into the future. Additionally, we’ve been able to grow our efforts to strengthen the local nonprofit sector to $100,000 annually. This work includes supporting the Lakeshore Nonprofit Alliance, Nonprofit Executive Director transitions, United Way’s Community Assessment and other efforts benefiting all local nonprofit organizations.

The final part of our mission is leading and partnering on community level initiatives. We know that financial stability is key to thriving families and that the lack of affordable housing options is hurting many local families. We are proud to be playing a meaningful role with Housing Next to help our community provide more housing options at a wide variety of price points.

As we reflect on another incredible year at the Community Foundation, our hearts are full of gratitude. It is a privilege to be part of such a deeply generous community where people care about making a difference in the lives of others. We are honored that so many of you chose to partner with CFHZ to ensure that our community thrives today, tomorrow, and forever. This Annual Report is designed to share not only the facts and figures behind our work, but also to tell the inspiring stories of impact. We hope you are inspired by the community you are a part of.

Building our Community’s Endowment ensures that Holland/Zeeland will always have philanthropic resources available to meet future community needs. Our Community’s Endowment is comprised of Unrestricted and Field of Interest Funds. These resources are pooled together to achieve greater impact both now and into the future. CFHZ uses a portion of these funds each year to invest in community change across a broad range of issue areas.

Unrestricted Funds
Unrestricted Funds give CFHZ flexibility by allowing the Board of Trustees and staff to use their knowledge and expertise in determining which efforts or initiatives would be most impactful for the community. Unrestricted Funds address our community’s most pressing needs and promising opportunities.

Having a partner can help make giving easier. CFHZ provides services to help you identify the best way to achieve your charitable plans. Our goals are to help you give the optimal asset and support your giving so you have confidence your dollars are being used in the most effective way possible. Our primary tools for achieving these goals are Donor Advised Funds, Designated Nonprofit Funds, Scholarships and Fiscal Sponsorships.

Donor Advised Funds
Donors enjoy administrative convenience, cost savings and tax advantages by giving through a Donor Advised Fund. Each year, they recommend the nonprofit organizations in which they want to invest, and CFHZ staff do all the work in administering the grants.

Establishing an Unrestricted Fund allows a donor to leave a personal, corporate, or family legacy in the community and know that the CFHZ Board of Trustees and staff will use the resources in the most effective way. CFHZ will always have local staff and board members who possess a broad perspective and knowledge of community issues, while maintaining close connections with the nonprofits seeking to address them. This expertise allows CFHZ to create the greatest impact for the community at the given moment. An Unrestricted Fund provides the resources to make these community investments possible. Donors can choose the name of these funds that are part of our Community's Endowment.

ERIN AND STEVE ZYLMAN

"We give to the Community Foundation not just because it’s easy, but because we know CFHZ is proactively looking at what our community’s next opportunities are going to be — not just what our current needs are."

As finance professionals, Erin and Steve Zylman understand the importance of planning for the future. To ensure our community will always be equipped to respond to the needs and opportunities that may arise, they donate to our Community’s Endowment.

“We give to the Community Foundation not just because it’s easy, but because we know CFHZ is proactively looking at what our community’s next opportunities are going to be — not just what our current needs are,” Erin said. “We love that.”

As the son of the longtime CEO of Hospice of Holland, Steve is no stranger to the world of philanthropy. His family also was heavily involved with their church, where they consistently practiced the tradition of tithing. Likewise, Erin was taught the importance of giving back by her family. She carried those values from her hometown in Jackson, Michigan to her new home in Holland, where she met Steve shortly after moving here.

Now married for over 10 years, Erin works as a financial advisor for Edward Jones, helping her clients invest and plan for the future. Prior to opening her own Edward Jones office, Erin worked as the Institutional Sales Officer for Fifth Third Bank calling on community foundations across the state to discuss asset management. This gave her the unique opportunity to get an inside perspective on how community foundations operate.

“As a newcomer to Holland, I really appreciate that I can see how the Foundation has evolved with our community over the past 10 years,” Erin said. “The Community Foundation pays attention to the issues that are important to us.”

Steve is a controller at Motus Integrated, where he is responsible for the financial results of his business. Working in the finance industry, Steve and Erin are thoughtful, forward-thinking givers who take the time to truly understand the organizations they support.

ERIN AND STEVE ZYLMAN COMMUNITY’S ENDOWMENT SUPPORTERS

Our community is sure to change, and we need to be ready. The flexibility of unrestricted gifts to our Community’s Endowment allows the Foundation to use the expertise of our staff and widely representative board to make the best possible community investments.
“Over the years, we have evolved as a couple in the giving choices we’ve made,” Steve said. “It started with giving to church and has continued to grow into something we actively seek out.”

Erin and Steve generously give their time, talent, and treasure to the causes they care about most deeply. In addition to the Community’s Endowment, they have been longtime supporters of United Way and the Center for Women in Transition. Erin was recently recognized by United Way for the 10 years she has served on their Community Investment Panel.

When deciding where to invest their resources, the Zylmans look for impact.

“I don’t want to give my money to anyone just to receive a thank you card,” Steve said. “I want to see what we give be expanded and multiplied through the efforts of the organizations.”

“That is what attracts us to the Community Foundation,” Erin quickly added. “Because that’s exactly what we feel is happening.”
Pat and Herb Eldean are well-known in our community. Whether you’ve eaten at the Piper, attended events at Eldean Shipyard, or docked your boat at their marina, chances are you’ve interacted with the generous couple. They’ve been a fixture in the Holland area for more than four decades.

The roots of their philanthropy formed during their college days. At the University of Illinois Pat became involved in donating her time and energy to her sorority’s various charity functions. Herb graduated from Northern Illinois University and later served on their Foundation Board where he founded the $1,000 Club as an innovative way to raise funds.

Their connection to our community began with a drive through Holland in 1973, when they first considered purchasing what is known today as Eldean Shipyard.

“As we only drove through the area once, we weren’t very familiar with the community, but we decided to take a chance,” Herb said. “It has turned out to be a wonderful adventure.”

When they bought the property, the boatyard was in disrepair. Over time, they replaced all the buildings. The restaurant on the property — known fondly as the Galley — was torn down, rebuilt, and became the Sandpiper and then the Piper. The marina grew from 140 to 310 slips.

Pat and Herb say part of their job at the restaurant/marina is making having fun easier and more enjoyable. “It’s so special to be a part of people’s lives and to share their memorable moments,” Pat said. “From watching families grow, to knowing who can finally swim across the pool.”

In addition to getting to know lots of people, being restaurant owners also allowed the Eldeans to learn a great deal about local nonprofits by hosting numerous fundraising events. One of those events was for the Outdoor Discovery Center (ODC).

Before taking on the shipyard and restaurant, Pat was a teacher. She understood the importance of early childhood education and quickly came to appreciate organizations such as ODC. Their support to ODC went from catering events, to Pat serving on their board, to establishing the Patricia Eldean Education Center. They continued to work with ODC in funding the Eldean Family Nature Play Park which was designed to provide an area that inspires children to play creatively using natural materials.
While Pat and Herb directly support projects they are involved in, they also see the value in giving to the Community Foundation. The Pat and Herb Eldean Fund was established in 2017 to support environmental projects that seek to improve the quality of Lake Macatawa as well as education efforts serving under-resourced children.

“The Community Foundation has the unique ability to make sure that the dollars go toward current needs, not what was important 10 years ago,” Pat said. “We enjoy contributing to the Community’s Endowment because we know the Community Foundation works to make thoughtful, informed decisions as to where our money goes.”
Arts and Culture

Holland Symphony Orchestra $45,200 over 3 years

Link Up

In partnership with Carnegie Hall’s Weill Music Institute, this program unites the classroom with the concert hall and will annually provide over 1,400 local fourth grade students with the opportunity to explore music through a yearlong curriculum of classroom activities and a culminating concert in which students perform with the Holland Symphony Orchestra.

$75,000 over 3 years

In-School Counseling

To provide counseling services to students in West Ottawa Public Schools who are currently going without professional mental health services.
Stories involving domestic violence and sexual assault have been more prevalent than ever in the news. The hashtag #MeToo has taken over our social media newsfeeds and has helped to reveal the staggering numbers of friends and families who have survived their own experience with interpersonal violence. Local and national trends in data demonstrate the growing need for a coordinated, community response.

Resilience: Advocates for Ending Violence, previously known as Center for Women in Transition, received a $75,000 grant from our Community’s Endowment to launch their Resilient Spaces program that will enhance the community’s capacity to recognize, respond to, and prevent domestic and sexual violence.

While Resilience has long worked to end domestic violence and sexual abuse, the organization saw an opportunity to expand their prevention efforts with programming specifically focused on local businesses and faith communities. “These spaces are the two intersections where we see the most opportunities to better prepare our community to step up when it shows up,” said Beth Larsen, Executive Director.

In 2014, Resilience began developing a pilot of the program in partnership with Gentex. Working closely with their Human Resource team, Resilience has since created the program curriculum and trained more than 700 of their employees.

The full-scale launch of Resilient Spaces has quickly caught the attention of other employers and faith leaders. “There was a high demand to do more in this space, and with the timing of the #MeToo movement, we knew we had to respond,” Beth said. “We recognized that if we had the staffing capacity, we could expand this program to begin to address the community’s needs.”

With the help of the grant from our Community’s Endowment, Resilience was able to hire a full time Resilient Spaces Program Facilitator to train local employers and faith communities. From Holland Hospital, to Herman Miller, to local hair salons, employers are taking advantage of this crucial program.

Resilient Spaces will have a lasting impact on employers and faith communities’ capacity to respond to these situations and increase their ability to keep victims themselves and others in these places of work and worship safe from harm.

“What really excited us about this is this is an intentional investment in the expansion of preventing and interrupting the cycle of domestic and sexual violence in our community.”

“What really excited us about this,” said Beth, “is this is an intentional investment in the expansion of preventing and interrupting the cycle of domestic and sexual violence in our community.”

The opportunity to invent is at your fingertips when you walk into Spark!Lab. The Holland Historical Trust received a $40,000 grant from our Community’s Endowment to bring this Smithsonian Institution activity-based, innovation program to our community.

Spark!Lab has also allowed the museum to showcase more of the 90,000 historical artifacts in its collection that people might not have seen before. Spark!Lab links these artifacts and their stories to a present day challenge. This connection between past and present is at the heart of the museum’s mission.

The addition of Spark!Lab has had a significant positive impact on the museum, and the community. In the first six months since opening, attendance to the museum increased by 58%. Family membership also grew by 25%. “While we can’t attribute all of our growth to Spark!Lab, certainly a good amount can,” Ricki said.

The Holland Museum is home to one of only three Spark!Labs in the state of Michigan. Science, technology, engineering, and math educators have begun to include Spark!Lab as a part of their curriculum. In addition to local classrooms, the Holland Museum has partnered up with other community organizations such as the Meet Up and Eat Up program, the Boys and Girls Club, makers groups and more.

“It’s offering the community a different experience of the Museum. Something people of all ages can enjoy together,” said Connie Locker VerHulst, Education and Outreach Manager. “It feels like the opportunities are endless.”
The growing concern across the business, nonprofit, and public sectors around this issue prompted the Community Foundation to step up with a five year $500,000 Community Impact Grant from our Community's Endowment to equip Housing Next to take on this challenge.

This funding supports the operations of Housing Next and provides flexible resources to help ensure our community can build the ecosystem necessary to tackle our affordable housing challenge for the long-term.

In the past year, this work included conducting a Housing Needs Assessment which yielded detailed data about the current and future demand for different housing products at different price points. It also involved Housing Next serving as a resource to local government partners as they consider what this information means for their communities and how they can impact what types of housing are financially viable to build.

In addition, Housing Next continues to work closely with nonprofits and other community partners to better understand the community supports and relationship building that transform houses into homes and developments into communities.

“The more we talk, the more I think we are finding alignment around how best to improve the economic and regulatory climate to create more housing and to do it in a way that catalyzes economic vitality, spurs private investment and ensures neighborhood stability over the long term,” said Ryan Kilpatrick, Housing Next Executive Director.

“There is big work ahead and we're excited to find as many partnerships across the community to get it done as we can.”
Alongside our direct support of projects and programs through our competitive grant program, we also invest a portion of our Community’s Endowment in funding efforts that strengthen our local nonprofit sector. We rely on our nonprofit partners to transform our competitive grant dollars into positive impact for the Holland/Zeeland community. The dollars we invest in this complementary effort help provide the data, professional development and collaborative infrastructure that support our nonprofit partners in their work. In 2018, the Community’s Endowment provided $101,000 in funding for these purposes which included:

Greater Ottawa County United Way 2018 Community Assessment

Why this matters: Local data is a powerful tool for all of us to better understand the changing needs in our community and make strategic decisions about how we maximize the impact of our resources to create the most benefit for the community.

Lakeshore Nonprofit Alliance and Community SPOKE Operating and Program Support

Why this matters: These two organizations provide a wide array of services to build the capacity of our local nonprofit partners and help facilitate successful coordination and collaboration for cross-sector efforts to tackle our biggest human service challenges.

Board Leadership Trainings

Why this matters: Board members play an incredibly important role in leading nonprofit organizations and are giving of their time and talent as volunteers. These trainings offer current and potential board members the opportunity to learn about key areas of responsibility and best practices for nonprofit boards as well as strategies for addressing common challenges.

Staff Leadership Transitions

Why this matters: Staff leadership transitions are critically important and often challenging for nonprofit boards to navigate. Decisions made at these junctures have substantial long-term effects on organizations. This program, provided in partnership with Lakeshore Nonprofit Alliance, offers support and resources to boards as they look to find a new leader who is uniquely well suited to their organization and goals.

Our nonprofit partners are taking on many of the most complex challenges our community faces. We are grateful that the flexible nature of our Community’s Endowment allows CFHZ to invest in efforts like these that help our nonprofit partners equip themselves with the resources, information, and people to do their best work.
The Holland/Zeeland Promise began in 2010 as a dream to allow our area’s young people to graduate college or technical school without crushing student debt. Since its inception, the Promise has been housed at the Community Foundation of the Holland/Zeeland Area where it has received administrative support. CFHZ is proud to be a part of the Promise’s story and contribute toward its future growth with a $120,000 grant over four years.

Promise candidates are nominated by their high school or Careerline Tech Center guidance counselors or staff at Hope College’s Upward Bound, the Boys and Girls Club of Greater Holland or Latin Americans United for Progress. Selection is based on a range of factors including high financial need, the motivation to achieve a college or technical degree and proven academic success. Most Promise recipients are the first in their families to go to college.

What makes the Holland/Zeeland Promise unique?

- The Promise covers the remaining cost of tuition, books, room and board.
- The Promise is renewable for additional undergraduate years.
- The Promise offers a side-by-side approach with support services.
- The Promise encourages peer mentoring.
- The Promise boasts a 93 percent graduation rate.
- Many Promise graduates return to our community to live, work and give back.

The Promise scholarship covers the remaining cost of tuition, books, room and board. Many Promise graduates return to our community to live, work and give back.
A Class of 2011 Holland High School graduate and Promise Scholar, Teohary Deloera (Teo) studied at Grand Rapids Community College before earning his degree in Exercise Science from Hope College. After graduating from Hope, he was hired by Holland’s Elzinga & Volkers, Inc. and has been able to travel and explore the United States through his work.

Teo is the youngest of four children. When he was three years old, Teo’s family returned to their hometown in Aguascalientes, Mexico. When it came time for him to enter high school, Teo’s family encouraged him to take advantage of the opportunities his American citizenship offered.

At 15, he returned to the United States alone and began attending Holland High School. For the first two years, Teo lived with a cousin of his father who owned a small store in the Holland area. Then, during his junior and senior years he rented a small apartment where he lived on his own, working to support himself, attending school and, whenever possible, playing soccer!

It was through soccer tournaments offered at the Boys and Girls Club that Teo discovered what a support that organization could be for him as he pursued his dream of a high school diploma.

At the Boys and Girls Club, Teo took advantage of the tutors and supportive mentors who began to encourage Teo to dream beyond high school. Teo wasn’t immediately convinced; he had never aspired to a college education. His goals were to earn a high school diploma and land a decent job after graduation. However, after learning about the vast job opportunities that a college degree would open up, Teo dared to dream of more.

Still living on his own and supporting himself, Teo attended Grand Rapids Community College picking up the college preparatory classes he needed as well as helpful ESL (English as a Second Language) classes.

While at GRCC, Teo also managed to find time to “give back” by volunteering at the Boys and Girls Club, working with the middle school children for whom he had become a role model. Teo was nominated for the Holland/Zeeland Promise Scholarship by his Upward Bound mentor, John Berry.

“Teo is one of the finest young men I’ve had the opportunity to know and mentor. He is dedicated to his future, stays focused on doing the right things, is considerate, dependable, trustworthy, hard working and a delight to be with,” said Berry. “He has demonstrated his ability to overcome challenges and now sees the many opportunities before him. College was a dream he didn’t dare have. It’s exciting to see such a dream come true.”

The Promise combined with other scholarships from Hope College made Teo’s dream a reality. “I’m deeply grateful for the opportunities the Promise Scholarship made possible,” Teo said. “Thank you to all of the supporters of the Promise for giving me, and the other recipients, the ability to earn an education that would not have been possible without your generosity.”
SCHOLARSHIP

Scholarship Funds are established to honor loved ones, inspire young people, and to invest in the community’s future. Higher education has long been seen as one of the surest paths to increased opportunity. Unfortunately, many people who could benefit the most from a college education are the least able to afford it. In setting up a Scholarship Fund, not only do donors show local students they believe in them, but they also create a lasting legacy in their name or the name of a loved one.

"Because of this scholarship, I will be able to reduce my stress on how to pay for college and focus on my studies. For that, I am eternally grateful.”

Everyone can leave a legacy. More than 175 individuals and couples have made a commitment to support the future of the Holland/Zeeland area through a deferred gift to the Community Foundation. These generous individuals are recognized through the Foundation’s Bridge Builder Society.

Bridge Builders understand the power of endowment and know that the assets they leave to the community will continue to grow, supporting good work for generations to come. Most importantly, they love Holland/Zeeland and want to see it thrive forever.

Bequests from a will are the most common way to leave a future gift to the Community Foundation. However, some have made the Foundation the beneficiary of 401(K)/IRA plans or insurance policies. Others have established a Charitable Gift Annuity or a Charitable Remainder Trust.

If you are interested in making a deferred gift or if you have made such a gift and wish to inform the Foundation that a gift has been planned, please contact us. We’d love to welcome you to this special group. Together, we can continue building this community that we call home.

JOHN AND ANN QUERY

“We truly care about this generation, and we also care about our community needs long after we are gone.”

John and Ann Query truly embody the spirit of what it means to be part of the Community Foundation’s Bridge Builder society. They are committed to making a positive difference in our community not only today, but also beyond their lifetimes.

“We truly care about this generation, and we also care about our community needs long after we are gone,” said Ann.

In addition to naming the Community Foundation in their estate plans, John and Ann have each played key roles in the growth and success of the Holland/Zeeland community.

“As we moved into retirement, we realized how important community is, so we remained committed to volunteering with organizations that make this community what it is — and this is a special community as we all know,” said John.

Economic development organizations, hospitals and countless nonprofits have benefited from John and Ann’s involvement.

“Getting involved with Good Samaritan Ministries was a big blessing for me. I joined the board the last year I was working to help me transition into retirement and it was the best decision I have ever made,” said John.

His volunteer service also includes serving as President of both the Spectrum Health Zeeland Community Hospital Foundation and the Zeeland Neighborhood Connections Board, as well as Chair of the Zeeland Cemetery and Parks Commission.

Ann was instrumental in the merger of the Holland and the Zeeland Community Foundations in 1991, and has been committed to CFHZ for more than 25 years as a former board member, a donor, and a community leader. She takes pride in being a founding board member of the Macatawa Area Coordinating Council and of Lakeshore Advantage; both examples of collaboration among multiple units of government and organizations that provide services to a wider community.

“Both John and I encourage people interested in their community to volunteer for committees and boards,” Ann said. “It represents a commitment to the present and future, as well as providing a sense of satisfaction in being active participants in decisions that affect the well-being of others.”

JOHN AND ANN QUERY  BRIDGE BUILDERS

More than 175 individuals and couples have made a commitment to support the future of the Holland/Zeeland area through a deferred gift to the Community Foundation. These generous individuals are recognized through the Foundation’s Bridge Builder Society.
The Querys care deeply about our community. This generous couple has also organized their giving through a Donor Advised Fund at the Community Foundation and have made a difference in the lives of local students through their Scholarship Fund. The Holland/Zeeland community has been truly blessed by John and Ann, and with the help of their deferred gift, their impact will be felt for many years to come.

“We have been blessed to live in and to be an integral part of this community,” said Ann. “Our legacy gift will someday help to ensure a positive quality of life for future generations.”
A Donor Advised Fund offers the opportunity to create a low-cost, flexible method of charitable giving. With a Donor Advised Fund, donors make a contribution to the fund during the year that is most convenient or tax advantageous for them. Each year, they recommend the nonprofit organizations in which they want to invest, and CFHZ staff do all the work in administering the grants for them. They may choose to give anonymously or in the name of their fund. Donors enjoy administrative convenience, cost savings, and tax advantages by conducting their giving through this type of fund. Donor Advised Funds also offer the option of allowing children to participate as advisors during the donor’s life or to become advisors after the donor’s death. Many people choose this option as a way to include the next generation in the family’s philanthropy, passing along the joy and values of charitable giving.

Norma and Ike Vande Wege learned about the importance of giving back to their community at a young age. They both grew up in Holland and attended Maplewood Reformed Church, where their faith and family taught them the importance of tithing. In the summer of 2016, Norma and Ike established the Vande Wege Family Fund, a Donor Advised Fund at the Community Foundation, as a means of continuing their family tradition of philanthropy.

"My parents were adamant about giving back," Ike shared. "I always knew that 10 percent went into a black leather purse that my mother kept in her drawer, and that was money set aside for the church."

Throughout their married life, Ike and Norma have continued the tradition of tithing by donating at least 10 percent of their income every year. "There were times when tithing did not come easily," Ike said. "When we co-founded Techno-Coat, we started with nothing. Those were the years when it was most difficult to put the 10 percent away, but we always did, and we always got by.”

Techno-Coat, a local powder coating company, grew to be successful beyond their expectations. They also had ownership in a second business which also achieved significant success.

Eventually, they sold their interest in the second business to a partner. This allowed them to buy out their original partner in Techno-Coat and begin the transition to their son Ross, who is President of the company today.

Along the way they also invested in the Bank of Holland when it was just a start-up venture. When the bank was sold, the Vande Weges knew they wanted to give back to the community.

Because they were early investors in the bank, their cost basis for their stock was low. A financial adviser suggested that the Community Foundation was the perfect partner to help them meet their charitable goals in the most tax advantageous way.

By transferring stock to a Donor Advised Fund after the sale, the Vande Weges were able to reduce the amount they paid in capital gains taxes, exponentially increasing the amount that would be dedicated to charitable causes.

“We’ve been blessed way beyond what we have ever expected to be,” Norma said. “I was one of eight kids. My dad was a bus driver and school janitor. Life was simple. We are just so fortunate to live in this community, it’s only natural to give back.”

Ike and Norma have carried on the tradition of giving to the next generation by allowing each of their children to annually donate $5,000 from the Family Fund to organizations of their choice. The family’s list of nonprofits range from Camp Geneva to the Outdoor Discovery Center to Good Samaritan Ministries. The Vande Weges have also been long time supporters of our Community’s Endowment and, most recently, the Holland/Zeeland Promise Scholarship.

“We have enjoyed supporting the Community Foundation because it allows us to give money to needs we may not be familiar with,” Norma said.
Nonprofit Endowment Funds benefit a select nonprofit by providing ongoing support. If the fund is established by a donor, they specify how the endowed funds are to be used, and CFHZ provides ongoing stewardship and oversight to ensure the donor’s intentions are fulfilled. Nonprofit Endowment Funds also can be established by a nonprofit organization to benefit themselves. CFHZ handles investment management and administrative responsibilities related to the endowment.

Zeeland’s Howard Miller Library opened its doors in 1995 thanks to the efforts of a few passionate community members. With the sustainability created by an Endowment Fund at the Community Foundation in 1998, the library is able to expand its services to the community and will be around for generations to come.

The city’s first library was in the Johny Kole Ford Building, an old garage the city purchased when Frank Hoogland was mayor. Decades later, Hoogland’s son, Les, would become the longest serving mayor of Zeeland, playing an integral role in the building of a beloved library and community center.

Shortly after being elected mayor, Les Hoogland met his friend Randy Dekker for lunch. Dekker — who Hoogland calls “Mr. Zeeland” — suggested the community would greatly benefit from a new library, and Hoogland agreed. “That’s where it all started,” Hoogland recalled. “It was all Dek’s idea.”

Dekker and Hoogland took their idea and added a couple more to their lunch meetings: Phil Miller and Jack Miller. The brothers quickly got onboard with this new initiative and offered a generous contribution of $1.25 million on behalf of the Howard Miller Clock Company, but they had three requests: that the people of the city would be allowed to vote on it, Hoogland would raise the additional funds needed, and it would be named the Howard Miller Library.

In less than a year, the three requests were fulfilled. Hoogland raised an additional $1.1 million, the city council unanimously voted in support of the new library, and the name was settled.

Once the funds for the building of the library were secured, Phil and Jack Miller knew the fundraising wasn’t over. “Jack called me and said we had to have an Endowment Fund for this thing,” Hoogland said. “He said that for every $2 I collected, they would give me $1, up to $350,000.

In 1998, the Howard Miller Library Endowment Fund was established at the Community Foundation. “People knew the value of an Endowment Fund,” Hoogland said. “We knew the Community Foundation was the best place to keep it, and it’s been a real success.”

The Endowment Fund continues to support the library on an annual basis providing dependable revenue for operations and special project. Most recently, in 2016 the fund was used to expand the children’s area where daily you can find Zeeland families gathered for story time and activities.

“There’s no greater feeling than seeing kids walk out of the library with a handful of books,” Hoogland said.

In addition to the library, the building also houses the Community Center. “The Howard Miller Community Center was established to meet the varied needs of the Zeeland area and beyond,” said Heather Wood-Gramza, Director of the Howard Miller Library and Community Center.

“It provides a vital space for events such as birthday parties, corporate trainings, fundraisers, retirement parties and so much more. In addition to being available to the wider public, the Howard Miller Library uses the space to provide programming for people of all ages. From family movie nights to creative programs for adults, there is always something interesting happening.”

CFHZ’s Youth Advisory Committee (YAC) is a group of students from our local Holland/Zeeland Area high schools who are responsible for reviewing funding requests and recommending grants for programs that benefit area youth.

YAC members meet once a month during the school year for grantmaking, site visits to local organizations, and learning about community needs and philanthropy. The YAC is enriched by the unique perspective and experiences that each member brings to the committee’s work.

The YAC program was established in 1991 through a challenge grant from the Michigan Community Foundation Youth Project (MCFYP) funded by the W.K. Kellogg Foundation. The mission of the YAC is to empower young people, involve them in the community, and teach them about philanthropy while serving as stewards through granting.

The YAC members’ most important responsibility each year is reviewing grant proposals and deciding together where to allocate the YAC’s available funding to create maximum positive impact for local youth.

In addition, YAC members visited and volunteered at Kids Food Basket and Compassionate Heart Ministries. The YAC also awarded College Visit Mini-grants to ensure low-income, first generation students in our community have the opportunity to experience first-hand different options to continue their education after high school.

The Community Foundation is extremely proud of our YAC members and the enthusiasm, dedication, and thoughtful consideration they bring to their work as youth grantmakers and community leaders!

“Thanks to the generous support of our community, we have been able to invest thousands of dollars back into local organizations, and in turn, better the lives of people in the Holland/Zeeland Area. Serving on YAC has been a privilege and I am so thankful that I was able to be a part of it.”
